DATE: 10-10-2014

ANNCR: Don't forget your photo ID when you vote this year. Virginia law now requires all voters to show an acceptable photo ID at the polls. If you do not have a photo ID, you can get a free one from your local voter registration office. You can still vote if you don't bring your ID on election day, but you must provide it to your Registrar immediately after the election. To learn more about this important new law, contact your local voter office, or visit elections dot Virginia dot gov. This message is brought to you by the Virginia Department of Elections.
